Ottawa Citizen

Dec 6 1895 • Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

So Concluded the Jury After Investigating Haacke's Demise.

Markham, Dec. 5.—The death of Mr. George Haacke, farmer, which occurred at the Wellington Hotel here on Tuesday, from peritonitis, was investigated here to-day by Coroner Doherty and a jury. The investigation was made because of greatly exaggerated reports concerning a dispute the deceased engaged in a week previous to the day his sickness commenced, in which it was alleged he had been kicked several times in the body, sustaining injuries which were the cause of his death. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses, who were present when the dispute occurred, and of Dr. Fierheller, the attending physician, the jury decided there was no evidence pointing to the fact that death was in any way attributable to violence, and rendered a verdict in accordance therewith.

Not Only Pleasant.

Evidently George was in a fight the week before his death and some thought the injuries caused by the fight were the cause of his death. However, Dr. Fierheller was also related to the Haacke's being a cousin of George Haacke through his Aunt Matilda Haacke who married William Fierheller.

More about George Haacke and Sophia Quantz:

From a letter written by Mrs. Elizabeth Schwab of Richmond Hill, who writes of extracts from an extensive notebook on family members of the Quantz clan:

"Sophia married George Haacke. Their home for the greater part of their lives was on Lot 21-7-M. Fourteen children was all they had. My recollections of Aunt Sophy are pleasant ones. She was kind-hearted, motherly, sunny-tempered, Christian.

Uncle George was a hard man in some respects but I believe he was a good husband. Later he added that George was a very ambitious, hard worker. Unlike the Quantz's, he was a money-maker, adding farm to farm and money to money, nearly all of which has been squandered by the children since his death. They both died near the old home and both lie buried in the old Christian graveyard on the 7th Con. where so many of the descendants of the house of Quantz have found their last resting place."

S. LAWRENCE HAACKE AND HER SIX CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE

Former Toronto Woman, Three Daughters, and Two Sons Burned in Their Home in New Liskeard. The Husband and Father Alone Left --- The Bodies Coming To Night

Special to the Star

New Liskeard, Ont., Feb 9 A most horrible catastrophe occurred before 10 o'clock this morning when seven persons were burned to death by fire which destroyed the home of Lawrence Haacke on the north side of the Wabis. The victims were his wife and six children, the children's ages ranging from the infant -----girl of eleven years of age.

The house is a small building, twelve by fifteen, with one room down stairs being used as a sitting room and one room upstairs used as a bedroom. Behind this is a kitchen of about ten by twelve. Haacke got in at 9:30 a.m. and kindled a fire in the front room, and then went outside to get some kindling for the kitchen stove. The rest of the family were asleep in bed. While lighting the kitchen stove he heard his wife scream, and rushing in discovered that the front part of the house and stairway were on fire. He immediately ran out and summoned his brother-in-law, Mr. Fretz, who lived next door, and they got a ladder and put it up to the only window upstairs. When they broke the window flames shot out, and they were badly burned themselves, especially Haacke, who was at the top of the ladder. By this time the screams of the mother and children had been silenced and spectators knew that their lives had been snuffed out.

Removing the Bodies

An alarm was sent in but when the firemen arrived the building which was frame and -----inside, was burned to the ground. Then the work of finding the bodies of the victims commenced. The body of the baby girl, two years old was the first to be recovered, and it was laid on a blanket nearby. The body was very slightly scorched, due to the fact that the body was wrapped in blankets when the fire was raging. Then was found the body of the next youngest, a boy 5 years old. It was charred almost beyond recognition. The mother and a newly born babe were next discovered. The mother's _____. Then came the bodies of two little girls aged 8 and 10 years. The last one recovered was that of the eldest of the family a girl 11 years old. The seven bodies were all recovered an hour after the first alarm of the fire had sounded.

A Gruesome Sight

A more gruesome sight could scarcely be witnessed than this of the seven charred bodies, some almost recognizable, lying near the fire with a blanket thrown over them waiting for the undertaker's rig. They were taken to ___ Nickers funeral establishment.

The mother was 86 at the time of the fire, was in confinement, a sister lives a 57 Hamilton street, Toronto. The family had lived in New Liskeard for two years, the husband being a carpenter, but latter a teamster. They came here from Toronto, but their home was in Markham village.

Town is in Grief

The whole town is plunged in gloom over the sad occurrences, and the citizens have raised a subscription with a view to having the remains of the victims taken to Toronto or Markham for burial where other members of the family are interred.

Three of the Haacke children who perished in the fire at New Liskear

The Parents of Mrs. Haacke Live in Hamilton Street

The first intimation of the tragedy reached Mr. Jerman last night in this telegram.

“House burned. Nettie and all children burned. Will send bodies Monday night. Arrange for funeral. Three coffins 5 feet 8, 6 feet and 6 feet 3.”

When the Star called at 55 Hamilton Street this morning, it was most pathetically a house of mourning. Mr. _____ the bereaved father and grandfather, was called to the door by Mrs. Jerman, the dead woman’s stepmother. Mrs. Jerman and Mr. Jerman were the personification of grief.

“Yes” he said, at last, “my daughter and her little ones have been taken. She lost a child some time ago, so the newborn was the seventh.”

Mr. Jerman said nothing for a while. Then he revealed a circumstance that emphasized the sorrow and sadness for it all.

“Such a horrible, distressing thing had never occurred to us. How _____ it? Why, on Saturday last, just --- day before my daughter here at ---- had received a letter from ---- Haacke. In that letter she told _____ how nicely they were all getting ----. The children were well, she was _____ and her husband had worked hauling logs and timber. It was a cold winter but they were comfortable, and despite the cold and snow the prospects were bright.

“While we read that letter --- daughter was happy—that was Saturday night —and we were so pleased that the little home in New Liskeard was one of contentment and simple comfort. A few hours went by ___little. New Liskeard home was in ashes, and just 24 hours after the receipt of the letter of glad tidings came that awful telegram.

Others of The Family There

It is well for Haacke that another married daughter and her husband were at his neighbors at New Liskeard. They went there last fall, and in this hour of trouble he will have some of his own people to sustain and sympathize with him”

Lived in Bleecker Street

Emma Caroline Haacke

Byers Bees: E. Mark Haacke

Many years ago, as a child, when I was cleaning underneath our cottage near Marmora, Ontario, I found a small aluminum based carton from many years earlier with its green top still intact saying Byer Honey. It was being used a small storage box for a variety of little items. I liked the top, it was colorful and grabbed my attention. When I asked my dad he said it was common for his father to bring it back to the cottage after his trips to Toronto to visit family and that it was specifically for honeycomb honey. He told me his father used to run a general store in Deloro not far from Marmora where he grew up and that the honey was also sold by his father in that store. (Many years later I managed to visit the store just as the current owner was remodelling the home and throwing out all the old "junk" - i.e., much of the history - and I managed to salvage one thing from the pile of material, a laminated sign of my grandfather's reading in capital letters "DELORO TRADING" and this sign hangs on a wall in my house today). But that was the scope of his story about the bee case.

It took many years to pass by before I as a young man got interested in genealogy. After many hours at the Ontario Archives reviewing microfilm reel by reel in the dark, I had found that even my great grandfather George Haacke had been born in Markham. So, I began tracing his family forward and found that his son George had a daughter named Emma Caroline Haacke, born 22 Nov 1874; who had married Jesse Lewis Byer. She died 01 Oct 1968 in Uxbridge, Ontario. After many letters and phone calls, I managed to get in touch with Edwin Arthur Byer, born 23 Nov 1894 in Markham, York, Ontario; died 13 Feb 1985 in Stouffville, Ontario. He married Ruth Meyer 20 Feb 1918 in Markham, York, Ontario. She was born 3 Dec 1892 in Markham, York, Ontario and died 30 Nov 1984 in Stouffville, Ontario.

They kindly invited me over for lunch one lovely summer's day and showed me around the property. One of the best memories for me was being taken to the bee aviary and to be given one of these same boxes of honey that my grandfather used to bring up to the cottage and that my dad had enjoyed so much as a kid. Now I know why he used to love to treat us to this same specialty. And he was delighted to learn that all this time part of the family his dad used to visit on these trips back to town was the Byer family, who for him were much more closely related as cousins. For my dad even Ed Byer was a second cousin twice removed which meant Ed's grandchildren were my dad's fourth cousins already. Both Ed and Ruth treated me like they were my grandparents. It must have been about 1980 or so I visited them. And they still lived in their original home and she still cooked. I may still have a special muffin recipe she gave me and that I recorded in a small orange notebook I used to carry around with me taking notes for future reference. Their kindness will never be forgotten. Once, many years later, I was invited to a Byer family reunion again in the early summer when it was time to pick the strawberries. These down-to-earth people were unselfish, kind and giving, and they made me a little bit of who I am today.

Article about Edwin Byer after his death:

Late Edwin Byer: Expert apiarist

For many years, the Byer family name has been synonymous with quality honey.

One family member responsible for this association was Edwin Arthur Byer, formerly of R.R. 2, Markham and more recently of Parkview Home, Stouffville.

Mr. Byer passed away, Feb. 13 in his 91st year.

Born on the west side of Hwy. 48, the son of Jesse and Emma (Haacke) Byer, Edwin received his formal education at Mount Joy and Dickson's Hill Public Schools and Markham High School.

At age 15, Mr. Byer became interested in keeping bees, a profession he would carry on until his retirement. Son Erle and brother Lloyd are continuing this tradition.

Edwin Byer and Ruth Meyer were married 67 years ago. Mrs. Byer predeceased her husband, Nov. 30, 1984.

When Hwy. 48 was widened, their home was expropriated and torn down. They built a new house in 1963 on property close by and continued to reside there until 1982.

Except for the two years spent at Binbrook near Hamilton, they were lifelong residents in the Markham-Stouffville area. They moved to Parkview Home in June 1982.

Edwin Byer was a member in the congregation of Wideman Mennonite Church. Because of the close proximity of his residence, he served as caretaker at the present church, built in 1928 and the one previous. He was also a long-time trustee.

Other interests included hunting, fishing and tending his garden.

Mr. Byer was extremely close to his family that includes two sons, Erle and Aruthur, both of R.R. 2 Markham; four daughters: Evelyn, (Mrs. Leonard Burkholder), Markham; Dorothy, (Mrs. Roy Smith), Hanover; Edith, (Mrs. Wilson Hunsberger), Waterloo; Helen, (Mrs. Moses Hochstetler), Ohio; 30 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Byer is survived by three brothers, Walter and Lloyd, R.R. 2, Markham; Lorne of Ohio and two sisters, Annie (Mrs. Russell Grove), Parkview Home, Stouffville and Grace, (Mrs. Jim Avis), of Windsor. He was predeceased by a sister, Mary, (Mrs. Herman Jones).

Rev. Jim Shantz conducted the funeral service, Sunday, from the Wideman Mennonite Church with spring interment, Wideman Cemetery. Pall-bearers were six grandsons – Murray Byer, Mark Byer, Cameron Byer, Peter Byer, George Burkholder and James Hochstetler.

- Note from Annie Byer to Mark Haacke:

I (Annie Byer) attended a one room grade school at Dickson Hill and when finished with grade 8, at 12 years attended Markham High School having passed gr. 8 with honors, and highest at Markham.

I went 5 years and got my upper school or as it is now grade 12 & 13. Mr J.S. Bell, the principal wanted me to come back for a year and try Scholarship but I was needed at home and wasn't old enough to prepare for teaching. Had to be 19 to go to Faculty. So I stayed home and soon prepared for a marriage in 2 years. Instead of teaching a school of children had 5 of my own in time and praise the Lord, they all turned out well. Pearl taught school- two boys were ordained ministers and the other 2 girls, as Pearl, married Christian farmers and all are serving the Lord.

Russell had his right arm off in Feb. 1950, a farm accident, and that slowed him down somewhat but he learned to write with his left hand and also drove the car until the early seventies when he became sick with cancer.

They farmed 100 acres on con 7 lot 19. They had a dairy herd and did mixed farming. In 1935, they began selling at the Toronto Farmer's market. They sold butter crunch lettuce and honey over and above the meats and vegetables they would bring. They moved to Peter Street in Markham in 1969 where they spent their retirement enjoying their flowers and birds at the bird feeder.

HAACKE FAMILY BIBLE RECORD

Compiled by E. Mark Haacke

Vol. 9 No. 3, 1987

This family bible information comes from a family bible the compiler saw many years ago, the family of his great-great-grandfather's brother, who lived in Cashel and Markham, Ontario. Its current whereabouts are unstated. Publishers of the bible were Wm. Collins, Sons & Co., Glasgow and London, and the bible is dated 1870. The compiler believes it to have been purchased sometime between 1870 and 1874.

George Haacke, born 15/16? September 1843, married 26 December 1867 Hannah Ramsey, born 16 July 1843. Her parents were William Ramsey, born 17 July 1797, who married 25 September 1824, Hannah Sleightholme, born 01 September 1799. Hannah's sister Martha married William Haacke, George's brother. William died 1 June, 1884 and Hannah passed away 4 Oct., 1883.

The birthdates of the children of George Haacke and Hannah Ramsey were given as follows, with the last entry for Minna Teresa being written in a different hand than the others:
