Married (1) before 1818 to

John Gray Parents: Mr. Gray and wife Mary

Born 1796, York, Ontario

Married (2) by 1844 to

Egbert Dykeman Parents: Unknown

Children of Amalia Haacke and John Gray:

- Mariana Gray, born 31 Dec 1818.
- Robert Gray, born c.1820; died c.1880, Toledo, Ohio; married Elizabeth Jane Salisbury.
- Margaret Gray, born 28 Jan 1821; died 31 Oct 1901; married Peter Hutt 23 Sep 1839.
- Catherine Gray, born c.1824; died Pittsford, New York; married (1) Algernon Swinnerton; (2) Leonard Bambridge.
- Mary Gray; married Edward McCarthy; lived in St. Catharines, Ontario.
- Louise Gray, born c.1835; died c.1920, Chicago, Illinois; married (2) Dr. Eldridge.
- Julia Amelia Gray, born 1839, Canada; died 15 Feb 1907, Rochester, New York; married (1) William Bevins; (2) Richard Jackson Ward.
- The 1885 History of Toronto and County of York calls Margaret the "second daughter of John Gray", which fits Mariana as the first. Three things in the chronology need a primary record: (1) with Amalia born c.1803 she was about 15 at Mariana's birth and 45 at Frances's; (2) Robert, "c.1820", has to fall between 31 Dec 1818 and 28 Jan 1821; (3) Catherine, "c.1824", cannot be right if she is the mother of Fred (b. 1867) and Daisy (b. c.1872) - see the comment in the Rochester Branch section.

Children of Amalia Haacke and Egbert Dykeman:

- Charlotte Dykeman, born 1844; died 16 Aug 1896, Oswego, New York; married James Himes.
- Frances Dykeman, born 1848; married George Card.

Generation No. 2

Amalia² Haacke (Johann¹) was born in Markham Township, York County, Ontario, Canada in 1803. She was the fourth child of Johann Haacke and Hannah Adams. Her birth was preceded by those of her three older siblings, Elisabeth (b. 1797), Mary Anne (b. 1799), and David (b. 1801). Prior to 1818, she married John Gray. He was born 1796 in York, Ontario, Canada. The Toronto records name two daughters, Mariana (b. 31 Dec 1818) and Margaret³ (b. 28 Jan 1821). While elder sister Mariana's subsequent fate is uncertain, Margaret went on to marry Peter Huty and raise a large family in Yorkville, Toronto. The biographical record connecting Amalia through Margaret to the Huty family descendants is reproduced as Figs. 1a–1c in the Appendix.

Family notes preserved in the Rochester, New York, branch (see The Rochester Branch, below) record five further children of Amalia and John Gray: Robert (b. c.1820), Catherine (b. c.1824), Mary, Louise (b. c.1835) and Julia Amelia (b. 1839 in Canada). John Gray is not heard of after Julia's birth. By 1844 Amalia had married Egbert Dykeman, and they had two daughters, Charlotte (b. 1844) and Frances (b. 1848). The younger children are found in Monroe County, New York, from the 1860s: Julia in Henrietta in 1865, Charlotte teaching in Rush in 1869, and Frances's family farming near Henrietta or Rush. Amalia was still living in 1880. [Check the 1880 Census for the listing of parent's birthplace.]

The 1907 biographical sketch of Peter Huty (Fig. 1b) names John Gray's wife as "Margaret Hackey, daughter of Captain Hackey, who was born in Markham township," and adds that "her mother was Hannah Adams, a distant cousin of John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States." The given name is evidently an error for Amalia, whose own daughter and granddaughter were named Julia Amelia and Amelia, and whose brother David named a daughter Amelia in 1845. The same sketch says that Peter Huty "was distantly related by marriage to William Henry Harrison, ex-president of the United States."

Generation No. 3 — Margaret³ Gray and Peter Huty

Margaret³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) was born 28 Jan 1821 and died 31 Oct 1901. She married Peter Huty (Figs. 1a–1c, Appendix) 23 Sep 1838/9? at the Cathedral Church of St. James, Toronto. He was born in Cottingham, Yorkshire, England in 1819 and died 28 Jun 1882. A map showing the Huty home on Cottingham Street near Yonge Street in Yorkville is reproduced as Fig. 2 in the Appendix; for a broader county-township perspective see Fig. 3.

Peter Huty settled in Montreal with his father, Joseph Huty, in 1831. After his father's death, Peter moved to Brampton to live with his maternal grandfather, William Smith. In 1836, he settled in Toronto to work as a general contractor for the Government. Peter was a valuable asset to the budding village of Yorkville through his service as a councilman and Justice of the Peace. During his fourteen years on the council, he had a major role in the construction of the York Township Town Hall and the Jesse Ketchum public school, advocated for a street railroad on Bloor Street despite much opposition, and served as lieutenant under Colonel Davis of Weston during the Rebellion of 1837–38. His resourceful real estate investments also afforded him property in Delaware, Middlesex West County, Ontario, where he worked as a farmer for six years.

Peter supported his family by working as a butcher in St. Lawrence Market. The Huttys raised their large family on the corner of Cottingham and Yonge streets in Yorkville, living there for over twenty years. An 1850–51 directory lists the Huttys on lot 21, concession 2 in York Township. Peter and Margaret also lived on Davenport Road, west of Avenue Road. The Huttys became parishioners of the Catholic Apostolic Church. Peter died 28 Jun 1882 of Bright's disease, and Margaret lived as a widow until her death on 31 Oct 1901 at her residence, No. 1 Breadalbane Street (Globe, 1 Nov 1901). She was buried 2 Nov 1901 at Toronto's Mount Pleasant Cemetery. A migration map showing where the Huty descendants settled across North America is reproduced as Fig. 4 in the Appendix. The Village of Yorkville plaque naming Peter Huty is reproduced as Fig. 5.

Peter Huty Obituaries

From the Globe, 29 June 1882: "ONE PIONEER LESS — The civic flag is floating at half-mast, out of respect to the memory of Mr. Peter Huty, of Yorkville, who died Wednesday at his residence on Yonge Street. Mr. Huty was a member of the Society of York Pioneers." He died 28 June, 1882.

"Flags are flying half-mast high from the several corporation buildings in memory of the late Mr. Peter Huty, who for the last 42 years had been a resident of Yorkville, having come here when the place contained but a few houses. He was in the council on several occasions, and in 1859 he was elected reeve. He was most generous in life, and ever ready to help those requiring assistance."

From the Telegraph, 29 June 1882: "Mr. Peter Huty died yesterday, at the residence of his son, on the corner of Yonge and Maitland Streets. Deceased was the reeve of Yorkville. He carried on a successful trade in butchers' meat in St. Lawrence Market for many years. His geniality was well known. He was 64 years of age. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 3 p.m."

The History of Toronto and County of York (1885, Vol. II, p. 82) records that "In 1839 he married Margaret, second daughter of John Gray, who was born in York in 1796," and that the family was brought up at the corner of Yonge and Cottingham Streets, "which street he named after his native place." Some notices call him Yorkville's first reeve; that was James Dobson. Peter Huty sat on the first village council and was elected reeve in 1859.

Also of interest is Peter's younger sister, Rebecca Margaret (Mercy?) Huty (b. 1825; d. 17 Mar 1907). She married William Gray (b. ~1824 in England) 26 Dec 1848 at St. James Church. The couple lived in York, Ontario for the remainder of their lives, with William working as a butcher; in 1869 he took over the butcher business from Peter Huty. An 1851 census shows the couple living with Mary Gray, a 53-year-old widow, and Selena Gray, aged 15, whose wedding record names her parents as Richard and Mary Gray. William died 06 Mar 1891, leaving no known children. This William Gray may be related to John Gray, Amalia Haacke's husband, through Richard Gray — though how and if William and John Gray are related remains hypothetical.

The Rochester Branch — Amalia's Other Children

The account that follows comes from family notes set down about 1952 in the Rochester branch (probably from Kathryn Ward Wright) and from census and cemetery records gathered since. It adds five children to the Gray family and records Amalia's second marriage, to Egbert Dykeman. Dates marked "c." are those of the notes and have not yet been checked against a primary record.

Generation No. 3 — Children of Amalia² Haacke

Robert³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) was born c.1820 and died c.1880 in Toledo, Ohio. He married Elizabeth Jane Salisbury, who died in 1901 in Rochester, New York. Both are buried in the Salisbury family lot in Toledo.

Catherine³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) was born c.1824. She married (1) Algernon Swinnerton of Mendon, New York, and (2) about 1879, in Mendon, Leonard Bambridge, a native of England; they lived in Mendon. She died in Pittsford, New York, and is buried in Fairport, New York. By her first marriage she had two daughters and two sons. One son, Fred Wilkinson⁴ Swinnerton, was born 05 Nov 1867 in Corry, Erie County, Pennsylvania, and in 1952 was living in California, aged about 85. A daughter, Daisy Antoinette⁴ Swinnerton, was born about 1872 in Perinton, New York, married Herman Van Voorhis about 1893, and died 07 May 1901 near Pittsford, leaving two children. Her obituary names her mother, then living in Syracuse, a sister, Miss Franc Swinnerton, also of Syracuse, and a brother, Ralph Swinnerton, of New York City.

The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle of 8 May 1901, as transcribed on Find a Grave (memorial 149828724, Boughton Hill Cemetery, Victor, N.Y.), names Daisy as daughter of "Mrs. Katherine and the late Algernon Swinerton," born in Perinton, with her mother and sister Francis living in Syracuse and a brother Ralph in New York City; her grandparents Andrew and Eunice Swinerton are buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Fairport. The husband's name, the towns, and the count of two daughters and two sons all match the family notes, although the identification is not yet proven. If it holds, Catherine, with children born in 1867 and about 1872, was more likely born in the 1830s or 1840s than about 1824, which would change the order of the Gray children. The notes also have her marrying Bambridge about 1879, yet in 1901 she is still "Mrs. Katherine" Swinerton; the 1880, 1892 and 1900 censuses should settle this.

Fred Wilkinson Swinnerton had children Mabel⁵ and Fred Allardice⁵ Swinnerton (1902–1993). Fred Allardice married in 1923 Margaret Wood, who afterwards married William J. Mattis; their daughter Betty⁶ was raised as a Mattis.

Mary³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) married Edward McCarthy; they lived in St. Catharines, Ontario. Two daughters, Minnie⁴ and Emma⁴, are buried with their parents. There were two other children, whose names are not known.

Louise³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) was born about 1835 and died in Chicago about 1920. Her first husband is unknown. Her second was Dr. Eldridge of Chicago, who had an office in the city and died shortly after his wife. They lived for years at the Palmer House and then at the Lakota Hotel on Michigan Boulevard.

Julia Amelia³ Gray (Amalia², Johann¹) was born in Canada in 1839 and died 15 Feb 1907 in Rochester, New York. She married (1) William Bevins, who was born c.1817 and died in 1869; the 1865 census finds them in Henrietta, Monroe County, New York, he aged 48 and she 26. She married (2), at Avon, New York, Richard Jackson Ward. She may have come to the Rochester area to visit her sister Catherine and met her husbands there. Child (by Ward): Kathryn⁴ Ward (b. about 21 Oct 1874).

The family notes say that in the 1865 census "she was 26 (should have been 28)"; a birth in 1839 gives 26, so either the census is right or her birth year is 1837. Her 1907 Rochester death certificate should name both parents, John Gray and Amalia Haacke, with their birthplaces.

Charlotte³ Dykeman (Amalia², Johann¹), known as Lottie, was born in 1844 and died 16 Aug 1896 in Oswego, New York. In 1869 she was a teacher of the eleventh class and lived in Rush, Monroe County, New York. She married James Himes; both are buried in Oswego. Children: Lolo⁴ (aged 7 in 1880); Amelia (aged 5 in 1880); Alanson (aged 3 in 1880); Ethel E. (b. 1882); James Irving (b. 1887).

Frances³ Dykeman (Amalia², Johann¹) was born in 1842 and married George Card born c 1840. The Card family lived on farms near Henrietta or Rush before moving to Rochester. Children: Dean⁴, who was born in Virginia and died in infancy; Hallie B. (b. 1870); Berda R. (b. Sep 1884). Mr. and Mrs. Card and Dean are buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Rochester. George, Francis and Hallie are listed in the 1880 Census.

Generation No. 4

Kathryn⁴ Ward (Julia Amelia³ Gray, Amalia², Johann¹) was born about 21 Oct 1874 and died in 1960. She was a schoolteacher, still teaching in 1940. In the late summer of 1927 she travelled to England, returning from Southampton on the Antonia, 03 Sep 1927. On 10 Jul 1928, in Monroe County, New York, she married David J. Wright. Kathryn seems to have been the family historian of the day. How great it would be if her records were still extant somewhere.

Hallie B.⁴ Card (Frances³ Dykeman, Amalia², Johann¹) was aged 40 and living in Rochester, unmarried, in the 1920 census. She later married Parson (Parse) Shaver, who was born 10 May 1852 and died 21 Jan 1939 in Wayland, New York, aged 86.

Berda R.⁴ Card (Frances³ Dykeman, Amalia², Johann¹) was born Sep 1884 and died in 1973 in Wayland, New York. She married Henry Eugene Curtis, who died 24 Aug 1945. In 1952 Hallie and Berda were widows living in Wayland.

James Irving⁴ Himes (Charlotte³ Dykeman, Amalia², Johann¹) was born in 1887 and in 1952 was living in Portland, the last survivor of his parents' children. He married (1) Lillian Louise Sweet (1894–1989) and (2) Marlene (Molly) Amelia Benjamin (1890–1980). Children: Charlotte Louise⁵ (b. 22 Feb 1913); Jane Kathryn (b. 19 Mar 1918).

Generations No. 5 and 6

Charlotte Louise⁵ Himes (James Irving⁴ Himes, Charlotte³ Dykeman, Amalia², Johann¹) was born 22 Feb 1913 and died 28 Aug 1983. She married (1) Charles Edgar Bedford (1912–1971) and (2) Samuel Corsivo (1922–1993). Children (by Bedford): Marlene Virginia⁶ Bedford (1933–1990), who married Paul James Powers (1933–1999); Gaylord Willis Bedford (6 Feb 1936–6 Jul 2001); Charles Stuart Bedford (1944–2003), father of Sherry Lyn⁷ Bedford (1965–2016); Michael Jerome Bedford (1946–2009).

Jane Kathryn⁵ Himes (James Irving⁴ Himes, Charlotte³ Dykeman, Amalia², Johann¹) was born 19 Mar 1918 and died 24 Jan 2015. She married (1) 31 Aug 1940 Robert Francis Castallo (4 Dec 1913–30 Dec 1990) and (2) Stuart James Barlow (b 1933, d. 1996). Child (by Castallo): Robert F.⁶ Castallo II (b. Dec 1942), who married 04 Jan 1964 and has children and grandchildren. [This branch of the family could have records about the Haacke-Gray-Dykeman families.]

Kathryn Ward, Family Historian

Kathryn Ward was the historian of this branch. About 1900 she was in correspondence with the Hutty family in Toronto and with the family of David Haacke in Illinois. Nearly eighty years after David Haacke left Markham for Illinois, the branches in Ontario, New York and Illinois had not wholly lost touch. In Toronto, family records were held by Grace Hutty, a great-granddaughter of Margaret Gray.

Kathryn was well placed to know the family's origins. Her grandmother Amalia, who was living as late as 1880, was a daughter of John and Hannah Haacke and was a married woman with children of her own when her parents disappear from the Ontario records after 1831. Her mother Julia lived until 1907, and her aunt Margaret Hatty, whose "reminiscences of early days" were remembered in Toronto, until 1901. If anyone of that generation wrote down where John Haacke came from, or who Hannah Adams's parents were, it is most likely to have been Kathryn. No account by her has yet been found.

Open Questions and Future Research

Several questions about Amalia Haacke and her family remain unresolved:

- When and where did John Gray die, and when and where did Amalia marry Egbert Dykeman? Julia was born in Canada in 1839 and Charlotte Dykeman in 1844.
- Where was Amalia living in 1850–1880? The 1880 United States census records the birthplace of each person's father and mother, and the 1855 New York State census the number of years resident in the town.
- When and where did Amalia die, and where is she buried? New York began statewide death registration in 1880–81; her death certificate should name her parents and their birthplaces.
- Did John and Hannah Haacke, who disappear from the Ontario records after 1831, end their days in the household of Amalia or one of her children?
- What became of Kathryn Ward Wright's family papers after her death in 1960, and of the records held in Toronto by Grace Huty, who died in 1956?
- What became of Mariana Gray, born 31 Dec 1818?

- Was Hannah Adams connected with the Adams family that settled Bloomfield, Ontario County, New York, in 1789? Mendon, where Amalia's daughter Catherine married, was part of the same purchase.

- This section is new and parallels the one in Chapter 1. The last question is a lead from my search, not a finding. The Find a Grave memorial for Lt. (Deacon) John Adams (1736-1793, memorial 9038969), who led the settlement of Bloomfield in 1789 on a purchase that became East and West Bloomfield, Mendon and Victor, lists eleven children and adds that a "Hannah Adams b. abt 1780" turns up in the documents and cannot be placed; the compilers think she may be a grandchild, or Hannah Rowley, wife of his son Abner. Against it: David's account says Hannah was of New York City. For it: the age fits; Berczy's party was in the Genesee country in 1792-94, when John Haacke says he came in "with Mr. Berczy and his followers"; your own Chapter 1 suspects John went back to New York State in 1800-01 and returned with oxen, steers and cows "perhaps with help from his wife's family"; and Amalia's children later settled in Mendon, Rush and Henrietta, the same few townships. Whether this Adams family descends from Henry Adams of Braintree needs checking.

Malcolm Macfarlane grew to manhood in his native country, and there learned the printing business. He served during the Crimean war as a member of the Royal Artillery, and received both the English and Turkish medals for gallant services rendered. On coming to Toronto Mr. Macfarlane followed his trade for a time, and then embarked in the grocery and liquor business on Gerrard street. In 1861 he engaged in the hotel business, continuing therein until his death, at which time he was the oldest hotelman in Toronto. Since his death Mrs. Macfarlane built, in 1896, the new "Macfarlane Hotel," at Nos. 99-105 Jarvis street, which is operated by her son. Mr. Macfarlane married Miss Mary Hawkshaw, born in Ireland in 1834, daughter of Robert and Matilda (Carey) Hawkshaw. Mrs. Macfarlane came to Toronto in 1849, and has been a continuous resident of the city since that time. She can recollect when there were neither street cars nor steam cars in the Queen City, and has seen it grow from a small town to its present proportions. In 1893 Mrs. Macfarlane and her daughter, Mary, settled at No. 466 Euclid avenue, where they now reside.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane were as follows: Miss Mary; Robert, deceased; Jessie, the wife of John Matthews, of Toronto; Matilda, who married Alfred E. Burgess of Toronto, and has one son, Frederick; and Alexander, proprietor of the hotel, who married Miss Jane Smith, and has one son, Malcolm. Mr. Macfarlane was a Presbyterian, while his widow is a member of the Church of England. He was a member of the I.O.O.F., and the Army and Navy Order. His political sympathies were with the Conservative party.

PETER HUTTY, who departed this life in Toronto June 9, 1882, was one of Toronto's most prominent men. He was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1819, son of Joseph Hutter, who came to Canada in 1831, settling at Montreal, where he died leaving one son, Peter, and three daughters—Mrs. Thomas Lawson, Mrs. William Gray (now in her eighty-second year), and ———.

After the death of his father, Peter Hutter made his home with his grandfather, William Smith, of Brampton (father of I. A. Smith, of Toronto, and David and Robert Smith of Brampton, all of whom lived to advanced years). In 1835 he came to Toronto and engaged in general contracting for the Government, in which he continued all his active life. In addition to his extensive contracting business, Mr. Hutter had very large real estate holdings in Toronto, owning all the property on both sides of Cottingham street, the corner, however, now the property of the estate of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, M.P. Mr. Hutter also owned a large farm at Delaware, County Middlesex, and there he spent five years engaged in milling and farming, the late Judge Adam Wilson being a partner in the milling. He was a lover of fine horses, owned a large stable, and drove some of the finest horses in the county. He was often called upon to act as judge of fine cattle and sheep.

For thirteen years Mr. Hutter was a member of the council of Yorkville and reeve thereof for a number of years. He was a justice of the peace, was instrumental in having the street cars pass Bloor street, and in building the York township town hall and the Jesse Ketchum school, both of which were great additions to their localities, and he was tendered parliamentary honors at the hands of the Conservative party, an honor which, however, he declined. He was a fine platform speaker, and was greatly in demand for platform work during campaigns. He was a firm friend and sincere admirer of Sir John A. Macdonald. Mr. Hutter was distantly related by marriage to William Henry Harrison, ex-president of the United States.

In 1838 Mr. Hutter married Miss Margaret Gray, born in Yonge street, Toronto, in 1821, daughter of John Gray. She died in Toronto in 1902. John Gray was born in the County of York, in 1796, and he married Margaret Hackey, daughter of Captain Hackey, who was born in Markham township. Her mother was Hannah Adams, a distant cousin of John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States. With the exception of six years, which were spent on their farm in Delaware, Mrs. Hutter spent her entire life in her native city, and was a good Christian woman, beloved by all who knew her. Her reminiscences of early days, and of the Rebellion of 1837-38, were highly interesting and instructive.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Hutter settled on Cottingham street, where they resided for twenty years and more, afterward living on Davenport road, both sides of which he owned west of Avenue road. The children born to them were: (1) Joseph William, deceased, was educated at the Upper Canada College, was a member of Captain Allister Clark's Mounted Cavalry in the fifties. He was in the forage contracting business for some time, then engaged in railroading, and later for fifteen or twenty years was in the drug business in Grand Haven, Michigan, where he was greatly beloved. He died in Kansas in 1893. He married Miss Susan Squire, daughter of Capt. Heber Squire,

(2) Alfred, of Poplar Plains road, County of York, married Miss Diana Lothian, of Delaware, Ont., and had children, George, Fred K., Hattie, Mary and Margaret. (3) James Henry, born in Toronto, in 1844, was educated at the Old Grammar School and Upper Canada College, learned the drug business with F. Hooper & Co., King street, and has been in that line in Toronto since 1866, his present location being 528 Yonge street. He is a member of the York Pioneers, the Upper Canada College Old Boys, and the Astronomical Society. (4) Margaret Matilda married Thomas Godson, a merchant. (5) Charles P. died young. (6) Annie Elizabeth married Capt. Perry Beale, son of Judge Beale, of Maidstone, Kent. (7) Alice Ada. (8) Miss Emily Helena. (9) Frederick Acheson, postmaster at Grand Haven, Michigan, was a friend of the late President McKinley and of President Roosevelt of the United States. He married Miss Birdie Squire, daughter of Captain Squire, of Grand Haven, and has these children, Clarence, Bernard, Margaret, Emily Helena and Frederick H. (10) Robert Howland Gray, of the Toronto postoffice, married Miss Flora Patterson, of Peterborough. (11) Charlotte Olive, born at Delaware, died in Toronto in 1903.

Mr. and Mrs. Huty were consistent members of the Catholic Apostolic Church. In politics Mr. Huty was a Conservative. Fraternally he was affiliated with the Masonic Order, and the Pioneers of York. He held a commission as lieutenant in Her Majesty's service under Col. Stoughton Dennis, of Weston, and in the defence of his country took part in the stirring times of the Rebellion of 1837.

CHARLES C. GOING, a well-known barrister of Ontario, who passed away at his late residence, No. 36 Evelyn avenue, Toronto Junction, Ont., June 2, 1902, was born at London, Ont., Oct. 21, 1860, son of Dr. Henry and Harriet (Brough) Going.

The Going family is of Irish extraction, and in 1859 was founded in London, Ont., by Dr. Henry Going. He married Harriet Brough, daughter of the late Archdeacon Brough, who founded the family in Canada in 1830. To Mr. and Mrs. Going were born these children: Frederick, Minnie, Nellie, Charles C. and Henry.

Charles C. Going received his education at London, Ont., and there began the study of law with Fraser & Fraser, completing his course at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, in 1881, in which year he was called to the Bar. Mr. Going first settled in the practice of his profession at Winnipeg, with the firm of Bair & Blanchard, but returned to London, where he resided a short time and then went to Strathroy. After two years at the latter place he settled at Toronto Junction, where he became solicitor for the town, a position which he filled very efficiently until his death. Mr. Going had made a specialty of municipal law, and was thoroughly fitted for the position he was called upon to fill.

Mr. Going was married to Miss Ada Marion Whately, daughter of Rev. John Clements and Hannah (Robinson) Whately. Mr. Whately was born in England in 1805, and educated at Oxford. He came to Canada about 1864, settling in London, Ont., where he died in 1867. He was twice married. His first wife bore him six children: Charles C.; Edward; Henry; George; Harriet; and Alice. By his second wife, Hannah Robinson, he had two daughters: Ada M., Mrs. Going; and Rose.

To Mr. and Mrs. Going were born the following children: Enid Hartland, born in 1887, in Strathroy, resides with her mother; Phyllis Marjorie, born at Toronto Junction in 1894, died the same year; and Brough Whately died in infancy. Mr. Going was a Conservative in politics, and in fraternal connection a Mason. He was a member of the English Church, to which Mrs. Going also belongs.

WILLIAM A. SMYTH, who passed away at his late residence in Toronto, No. 187 Crawford street, Feb. 17, 1888, was born in Ontario, son of James and Anna (Harrison) Smyth, the former a native of Ireland, and the latter of England.

James Smyth came to Canada when a young man, and soon thereafter settled in Toronto, where he became a commission merchant, continuing in this business until his death. He was twice married, his first wife being the mother of our subject.

William A. Smyth began business with his father, but later went to the office of the Massey-Harris Company, as an accountant, where he continued until his death. He had a large acquaintance in business circles, and wherever known was highly esteemed.

Mr. Smyth married Miss Sarah Helen Johnson, born in Toronto, daughter of Samuel and Ann (Fair) Johnson, natives of County Mayo, Ireland. Mrs. Johnson came to Montreal in 1829, and to Toronto in 1833. She was a daughter of Robert and Margaret Fair, natives of County Mayo, Ireland, where they died. They had children: John, William, Robert, James, Mary, Elizabeth and Ann, all of whom lived to be eighty-five years old or over. To Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson the following children
